To whom it may concern:

I am writing with the utmost confidence to recommend David Quintero for the position he is seeking at your company. I have known David since 2016 when I purchased my The UPS Store. David was an employee of the previous owner when I bought the store. He was the only employee that chose to stay on with a new unfamiliar owner. Right from the onset he became an invaluable member of my team. David continued to grow and was an outstanding manager. Without David as my manager for the first 3 years in business I do not think our store would have grown at the rate it did. David Quintero would be a great asset to any employer looking for an excellent, self-motivated worker.
